COUNCILMEMBER PRAISNER NAMED TO NATIONAL COUNTIES' STEERING COMMITTEE

Councilmember Marilyn Praisner, a leader in the National Association of Counties (NACo) and the Maryland Association of Counties, has been recently named vice-chair of NACo's steering committee on Telecommunications and Technology.

NACo's steering committees form the policy-making arm of the association. The Telecommunications and Technology steering committee focuses on counties' roles as regulators of telecommunications policies, cable services, information technology development, and e-governance through the Web.

"Many of the very same telecommunications challenges and opportunities we see in Montgomery County are being experienced by counties all over America," said Councilmember Praisner, who chairs the Council's Management and Fiscal Policy Committee. "As someone who's been involved in this field for a long time, I'm happy I'll be able to work with elected officials from elsewhere on these cutting edge issues."
